Equipment and Manufacturing Processes

Our Packaging Sector’s manufacturing processes include extrusion, lamination, printing, converting, as well as the manufacturing of advanced coatings. We also offer premedia services.

TC Transcontinental Packaging’s manufacturing platform benefits from several years of upgrades, footprint rationalization and modernization. Our Packaging Sector’s expansive array of packaging machinery and specialized equipment at its various plants enable us to offer a wide variety of flexible packaging products and maintain a high degree of flexibility in meeting our customers’ demands.

Extrusion

TC Transcontinental Packaging has cast and blown film extrusion capabilities. We produce a line of custom films that provide machinability, heat resistance, durability, sealability and barrier protection.

Our cast film extrusion process is a process by which melted resin is extruded horizontally to create a sheet of material, which is cooled prior to trimming and rolling. Our blown film extrusion process is a process by which different resins are combined to form a blend consisting of multiple layers, which allows us to produce multi-layer barrier films of up to 11 layers. During this process, melted resin is blown vertically to form a tube and cooled. The tube of film then passes through nip rolls where the tube is flattened. The flattened tube is either kept as such or slit into sheets and wound into rolls.

We use our film extrusion capabilities for insourcing a portion of our film production when it is economically efficient to do so.

Lamination

TC Transcontinental Packaging manufactures multi-layer, high-barrier laminated packaging that meet its customers' barrier requirements while attaining aesthetic and machine related performance needs. The lamination process provides resistance and barrier properties needed for product durability.

Our solventless adhesive lamination process, which releases no emission and requires no ovens, involves lamination of the printed substrate to a sealant film with a two-component adhesive system. Once mixed, the two components in the adhesive react and begin to cure, bonding the two substrates together. The combined layers are kept in roll form until the adhesive has cured, after which the large master rolls are slit out into the finished rolls and shipped to the customer. TC Transcontinental Packaging also laminates films with solvent-based adhesives which provide high tack qualities for substrates (with low energy surface) such as polystyrene and provides flexibility to produce very specialized films.

Our extrusion lamination process is a process by which polyethylene laminating resin is melted into a thin, hot film that is coated onto a conveyed substrate and then bonded to a second web of material by passing through a series of counter rotating nip rolls which adhere the layers together. Rollstock produced by this process is then converted into finished goods in a secondary slitting process.

Printing

TC Transcontinental Packaging operates a platform of flexographic presses, printing in up to 11 colors. This provides us with narrow, medium and wide web flexographic printing capabilities. Flexographic printing technology involves the transfer of ink to a polymer printing plate mounted on a cylinder, which is then transferred to the substrate and dried. This web printing process consists of printing on rolls of packaging materials which are commonly thin-gauged films with properties designed for high-speed printing. A digital press, which does not involve any printing plate, is also part of TC Transcontinental Packaging's manufacturing platform. Our digital printing press is mainly used for printing shorter runs and customized labels. We complete and document a number of quality checks during production runs and our systems are optimized for quick changeovers between runs.

Converting

TC Transcontinental Packaging's manufacturing capabilities include converting. During the converting process, printed film is essentially converted into packaging products such as bags and pouches. TC Transcontinental Packaging houses multiple high-speed bag and pouch-making machines offering product variety, and providing the flexibility to meet fluctuating volume demands. Our pouch-making machines have advanced pouch sealing techniques to ensure sealability and containment.

TC Transcontinental Packaging's manufacturing capabilities also include laser scoring technology, which gives it the ability to offer corner-tear and perforation features for increased pourability, ease of opening and unique venting. Cold seal technology, high-speed and precision slitting, embossing, metallization and de-metallization are also among our manufacturing capabilities.

Our products are subject to various degrees of testing throughout the manufacturing process including drop testing and seal testing to ensure optimal functionality and freshness.

Advanced Coatings

TC Transcontinental Packaging's advanced coatings segment develops, manufactures and distributes coated papers, films and specialty substrates for digital imaging, electronics as well as medical and optical technologies. Our advanced coatings segment also offers specialty films and high-performance coating services. Our advanced coatings activities are carried out in two ISO certified manufacturing plants located in the United States and the United Kingdom, as well as a converting and distribution facility located in China.

Premedia

TC Transcontinental Packaging provides premedia services including production art, creative and design, photography, brand guideline adaptation and brand extensions, colour management, print quality management, proofing and product innovation services. Moreover, some of our packaging plants also offer full in-house prepress services as well as plate making services.

Principal Markets and Customers

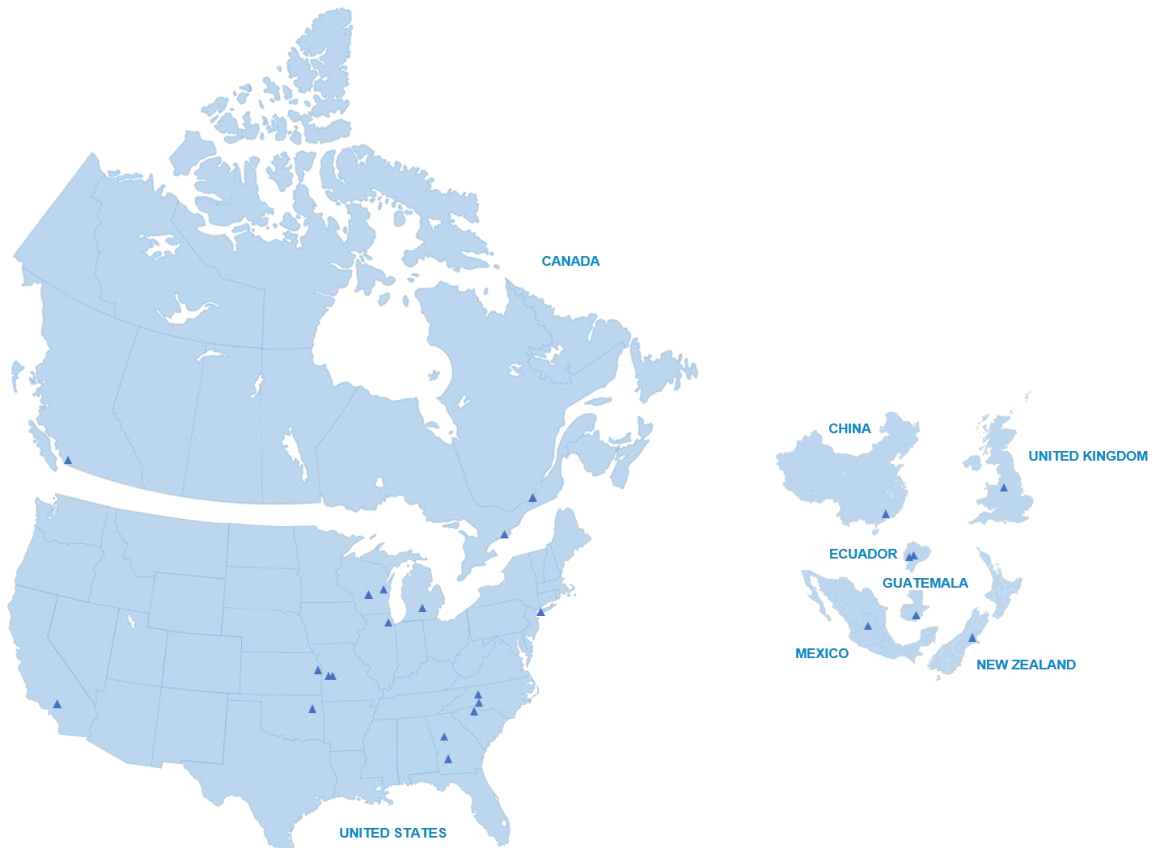

Our flexible packaging products and services serve an array of end markets, including dairy, coffee, meat and poultry, pet food, agriculture, beverage, confectionery, industrial, consumer products and supermarkets. Through our advanced coatings segment, we also serve the medical, automotive and banking industries.

Our Packaging Sector's customer base ranges from international market leading customers to smaller regional businesses. TC Transcontinental Packaging's customers are predominantly food processors, beverage companies, retailers (including supermarkets, grocery and convenience stores), consumer packaged goods companies, as well as industrial companies.

Although the packaging market is not typically subject to long-term contracts with customers, we have entered into contracts with many of the major customers of our Packaging Sector. Such contracts have remaining terms varying between one to 10 years and generally have price adjustment clauses based on volume, cost of raw materials, labour, the Consumer Price Index or the Chemical Data Index.

No single customer accounted for more than 15% of our Packaging Sector's revenues during the last two fiscal years.

The graphic below is an overview of TC Transcontinental Packaging's worldwide packaging platform.

Logistics

TC Transcontinental Packaging's products are generally delivered to its customers using third-party transportation. This arrangement allows TC Transcontinental Packaging to limit the capital commitment required to maintain its own distribution capabilities, such as a transportation fleet, and to minimize the time required to deliver its products to its customers.

Research and Development, Patents and Trademarks

Continued research and development capabilities and activities in innovation and automation are a key element to TC Transcontinental Packaging's success.

A majority of research and development efforts in the flexible packaging sector are currently devoted to innovations that help to differentiate products, such as convenience packaging, improved barrier protection, packaging design initiatives, smart packaging, and environmentally-friendly alternatives. TC Transcontinental Packaging effectively develops, commercializes and produces innovative product packaging. In addition to its existing product line, TC Transcontinental Packaging has in-house product development departments, which continuously develop new products in response to customers' changing needs and market trends. We work closely with our customers to promote the use of sustainable materials and to design value-added packaging that complements and enhances the functionality and shelf-appeal of their product line, while considering their end-of-life management. We have several compostable, recyclable or recycled plastic products that are already marketed in North America, and committed to invest 1% of our Packaging Sector's revenues in our research and development activities.

We are the owner or licensee of a number of Canadian, United States and foreign patents and patent applications that relate to certain of our products, manufacturing processes, and equipment in the flexible packaging industry.

We also have a number of trademarks and trademark registrations in various territories that are used by our Packaging Sector, including the following trademarks: LaserTear™ easy open feature; Dartek™ nylon cast film 6.6 resin for industrial uses; Envio™ forming films for cheese and meat applications; Nextrus™ shrink bags for boneless meat and cheese applications; Halo™ ethylene-vinyl alcohol copolymer (EVOH) encapsulated films for cheese applications; as well as Banaflex Treebag™, Proflex Treebag™ and Polyinsect™ for banana fruit protection solutions.

Revenues by Geographic Regions

The following table sets forth the revenues and the percentage of revenues of our Packaging Sector based on their geographic distribution for the fiscal years ended October 27, 2019 and October 28, 2018.

Competition

TC Transcontinental Packaging operates in a highly competitive industry. The competitive landscape is fragmented and characterized by a significant number of competitors both large and small in size. Industry players compete on a number of factors including quality, service, product features, innovation and prices.

TC Transcontinental Packaging's product offering also competes with similar products made by other manufacturers, plastic packaging products made through different manufacturing processes, as well as with a number of other alternative packaging materials, such as metal, glass, paper, cardboard and other types of materials.

TC Transcontinental Packaging competes in certain market segments with several large firms in North America, including Amcor Ltd., Berry Plastics Group Inc., Sonoco Products Company, ProAmpac Intermediate, Inc., Wipak Ltd., Printpack, Inc., American Packaging Corporation, Bryce Corporation, Peel Plastic Products Ltd., Plastic Packaging Technologies, LLC, as well as several small converters.

We believe that our ability to serve customers requiring fast turnaround times and to deliver short run as well as long run orders differentiate us from other industry participants. Our wide range of flexible packaging solutions also enable us to rapidly respond to the needs of the market for a variety of applications. We believe that our in-house content creation premedia services distinguishes our Packaging Sector's service offering by enabling us to support our customers' brand strategies. Moreover, we believe that our research and development strategy further differentiates us in the industry and allows us to develop products that bring greater benefits to our communities and the environment.

From a quality perspective, our food safety practices reflect our commitment to high industry standards for our customers. Our Packaging Sector's manufacturing plants use various levels of third party certifications for our food safety and quality programs, namely Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) certifications including Safe Quality Food (SQF), British Retail Consortium (BRC) and International Featured Standard (IFS).

Seasonal Variations

Depending on the product category of our Packaging Sector, seasonal factors can contribute to changes in revenues and net income for a particular quarter. As such, some food packaging types are by their very nature more seasonal due to harvest cycles, weather conditions, holidays, religious celebrations or sporting events. For example, the first and fourth quarters are favorable to cheese packaging due to holidays and marketing events. In general, fall and winter holidays furnish prime marketing opportunities for food producers, who take advantage of seasonal shopping trends with more products on shelves and different formats including gift pack, multi-unit stock keeping units (SKUs) and other specialized product packages.

B) Printing Sector

Products and Services

TC Transcontinental Printing offers to its customers a complete line of specialized services for the production of printed material, from the beginning to the end of the graphical production line.

Our Printing Sector is divided into five Groups: Retail and Newspapers, Magazines and Books, Marketing Products, Premedia and Distribution. With our state-of-the-art plants and best practices across our printing platform, we believe that we are well positioned to remain a leader in the printing industry.

Retail and Newspaper Group

TC Transcontinental Printing is among the largest printers of retail flyers in Canada. We offer retailers a variety of formats including tabloid, broadsheet, maxitabloid, minitabloid, and magazine/catalogue formats.

As one of the largest printer of newspapers in Canada, we provide newspaper publishers with a unique range of print solutions. Newspapers are printed in six plants located in four provinces of Canada of which two are specialized in printing newspapers only and four are specialized in printing both newspapers and flyers. We print more than 200 newspapers across Canada, including 13 paid dailies.

In the midst of a difficult advertising market, we offer a unique newspaper printing outsourcing model. Our innovative solution helps newspaper publishers increase efficiency. We print, among others, for The Globe and Mail Inc., The Globe and Mail newspaper (except in the Maritimes since December 1, 2017), and, for Postmedia Network, The Gazette, Calgary Herald and The Vancouver Sun newspapers.

Magazine and Book Group

With four plants specialized in magazine printing located in Québec, Ontario, and Manitoba, we print more than 300 magazines, making us among the largest magazine printers in Canada. Our Magazine and Book Group is also among the largest printers of colour books in Canada. This Group also prints catalogues.

TC Transcontinental Printing's printing technologies and its large capabilities allow us to quickly handle a combination of long and short runs for all types of publishers. This enables small and mid-circulation publications to enjoy many of the same benefits as their larger competitors. We offer complete bindery services, cover printing and special features such as lamination (mat and glossy), which make us a single-source printer for our customers.

Marketing Products Group

We have developed a high-revenue potential in-store marketing niche, including the printing of point-of-purchase materials and the printing of promotional materials. The broader in-store marketing segment is of interest to us because it is often characterized by recurring contracts with major retailers with whom we currently do business. TC Transcontinental Printing has the capability to print an array of materials, including brochures, self-mailers and inserts. We also print corporate materials to support our customers with their marketing, business and consumer directed advertising material including banners, annual reports, identity brochures, presentation folders and company calendars. Our printing capabilities allow us to offer high-fidelity colour, unique folds and special finishes as well as panoramic large format printing.

Our Marketing Products Group produces its deliverables across four production plants specializing in digital and offset commercial printing of marketing products. They are located in Ontario and Québec, serving a wide array of customers as diverse as advertising agencies to blue-chip corporations in the financial, pharmaceutical and retail sectors. This Group also offers cardboard packaging solutions and direct mail solutions. We print products that range from a simple direct mail piece to personalized self-mailers. We also offer fulfillment services to our customers.

Premedia Group

TC Transcontinental Printing's Premedia Group is a promotional content creator for an important part of Canada's largest retailers providing fully integrated solutions for printed flyers in addition to digital and multichannel platforms. We offer all aspects of content creation, from inception to completion, including strategic creative and design, page production, copywriting and editing, language services, photography (in studio or external) and video production (in studio or external).

Distribution Group

Our Distribution Group offers multiple services for door-to-door distribution. We deliver newspapers, flyers and advertising printed products to 3.3 million households in Québec through our Publisac distribution network, a medium that holds the majority of large retailers' flyers and local newspapers in Québec, which makes us a leader in this industry in Québec. In order to reduce our environmental footprint, we replaced the Publisac's recyclable virgin plastic bag with a bag that we produce in Québec, which is made from 100% recycled plastic and still recyclable. The new Publisac bag was launched on the Island of Montréal in September 2019 and will be distributed throughout Québec in early 2020. It has been developed and produced in collaboration with our Packaging Sector.

Through our Targeo division, a Canada-wide distribution brokerage service, we also offer national retailers the possibility to reduce their management fees by outsourcing the coordination of their flyer program across Canada. In this regard, we have a database and commercial relationships with more than 750 distribution partners in the territories that are not directly served by Publisac. This represents 10 million households that are served by Targeo, in addition to the 3.3 million households served directly by Publisac.

With a view to increase advertisers' return on investment, we also provide them with a range of services such as socio-demographic database access and on-going control over distribution points which enables them to measure the efficiency of their flyers and target consumers.

Equipment and Manufacturing Processes

Our Printing Sector's equipment and manufacturing processes allow for short make-ready time, speed in printing, superior reproduction quality and product differentiation. Most of our presses and printers are computer-controlled, and many have in-line finishing capabilities. Technical compatibility between presses gives great flexibility and allows us to adapt easily to last-minute changes and ensure delivery seven days a week. The simultaneous printing of a single product in several plants leads to a reduction in transportation costs for our customers and allows for shorter lead times, in addition to consistent printing quality across Canada. Our operating flexibility allows us to transfer work from one plant to another to meet production deadlines while enabling us to handle contingencies.

The quality of our printing services is ensured by expert staff and our compliance with industry standards. We currently use the services of the laboratories of the Québec Institute of Graphic Communications. These ultramodern installations allow for the ongoing analysis of the inks, papers and other raw materials used by our printing plants. We share the results of the analysis with our suppliers in order to quickly correct any problems or discrepancies, thus ensuring our high level of quality. Moreover, our strong culture of continuous improvement leads us to continuously innovate and improve our manufacturing processes and product quality.

Our manufacturing processes include production on heat-set, coldset and sheet-fed presses using the offset printing process. This process is characterized by the transfer of a printing plate image to a rubber surface, called a blanket, which is mounted on a cylinder. This blanket is first rolled over the printing plate in order to receive the image, which is then transferred to paper.

Production using the web printing process consists of printing on rolls of paper whereas production using the sheet-fed printing process consists of printing on sheets of paper. Short-run printing is generally best served by sheet-fed printing, while longer run printing is generally best served by web printing.

The heat-set web offset process provides great speed (up to 90,000 copies per hour) and a better quality of printing. This process is used mainly to print magazines, periodicals, catalogues, flyers, inserts, tabloids, books, directories and direct mail products. The coldset offset process is used mainly to print newspapers.

All of our Printing Sector's production plants are equipped with prepress technology and plate making equipment that allow carrying out the various stages of graphic production with the help of digital technology. Our skills in prepress are used in all of our market segments to further reduce production lead times while increasing the opportunity for last-minute changes. We also provide our customers with direct digital imaging services that streamline the process of preparing pages for print and allow use of data from other vehicles such as the Internet. We have direct computer-to-plate production systems for offset printing in all of our printing plants.

Principal Markets and Customers

Our Canada-wide printing network allows our Printing Sector to serve national, regional and local customers in a cost effective and timely manner. We believe that our strategic focus on putting in place hybrid production plants (printing of newspapers and flyers on the same press) and reducing production costs of the printing products that we create has allowed us to offer our customers superior quality products at competitive prices.

Customers of our Printing Sector are typically publishers (newspapers, magazines and books) and marketers (retailers predominantly in the food, pharmacy and home improvement markets, financial institutions, advertisers and agencies). Customers of our newspaper printing operations range from market leaders to many respected small and medium-size newspapers.

We have entered into contracts with a significant number of our Printing Sector's major customers. Such contracts have remaining terms between one to eight years and generally have price adjustment clauses based on volume, cost of raw materials, labour or the Consumer Price Index. Sheet-fed printing and printing of direct marketing materials are not typically subject to long-term contracts with customers.

During fiscal year 2019, we renewed several multi-year agreements with major customers of our Printing Sector for a total valued at over $200 million per year. No single customer accounted for more than 15% of our Printing Sector's revenues during the last two fiscal years.

Revenues by Geographic Region

The following table sets forth the revenues and the percentage of revenues of our Printing Sector based on their geographic distribution for the fiscal years ended October 27, 2019 and October 28, 2018.

Competition

Although we are one of the largest printers in North America, the printing industry is highly competitive with respect to all categories of products and regions. Furthermore, this industry is North American in scope in several markets providing opportunities for a diverse set of competitors from both the United States and Canada. Currently, several of the industry's segments continue to face challenges with overcapacity and secular shift to digital media which is impacting all markets in all geographic regions across North America, adding increased pricing pressure in the market. Some North American companies involved in those printing activities have greater capacity and financial resources than we do. We compete in certain market segments with several large firms in North America, including LSC Communications, Inc. and Quad/Graphics, Inc., as well as numerous Canadian printers, including St. Joseph Print Group Inc., Solisco Printers Inc., The Lowe-Martin Group, Advocate Printing & Publishing Inc., Friesens Corporation and Marquis Book Printing Inc., among others. The development of new printing technologies at reduced prices, especially digital presses, is also enabling small-niche printers to compete within specialized segments of the industry.

We believe that the major competitive factors in the printing business are quality and product innovation, the range of services offered, pricing, the availability of printing capacity with the appropriate equipment and state-of-the-art technology, delivery lead times, distribution capacity and customer service.

Over the past years, the Canadian retail landscape has evolved: some U.S. retailers made their entry into the Canadian market or acquired Canadian retailers, whereas others were consolidated. Some retailers also continue exploring digital flyers and campaigns. These changes influence the size and the dynamics of competition within the flyer and insert printing industry in North America. Printing demand is also affected by publishers of newspapers, magazines and books that are investing in the digital distribution of their content either through web or mobile devices with applications, paywalls or online newsstands.

The renewal of existing contracts with large retailers and the signing of new ones confirm that we remain the printer of choice within this market segment in Canada. We believe that it is the reach of our distribution network that has differentiated us in the market from our competitors and the convenience of our methods that made us the Canadian market leader in this industry.

Our Distribution Group distributes each week in Québec most local newspapers and flyers of major national, regional and local retailers. This Group competes for distribution of advertising materials and other products with direct mail services and some other distribution companies, as well as Canada Post. Moreover, the City of Mirabel, Québec, recently modified its regulation to prohibit the distribution of printed advertising materials unless the owner or occupant posts a sticker indicating that they accept to receive printed advertising materials (opt-in). In Québec, local newspapers are generally distributed by our Distribution Group with printed advertising materials. In addition, the regulation establishes a different system for Canada Post. We are seeking to have the regulation declared null and void on the grounds that it infringes the right to freedom of expression guaranteed by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the Québec Charter of Human Rights and Freedoms and the right to information protected by the Québec Charter, and that it is discriminatory. We understand that other municipalities could potentially adopt similar regulations. We intend to challenge any regulations in that regard that would be adopted elsewhere. Should we fail to get such changes to regulations declared null and void, it could have an impact on our business model and, consequently, our net earnings. We are also working together with government bodies to demonstrate the potential effect of such regulations on the value chain as a whole, jobs, citizens, local newspapers and the Corporation.

As for the Targeo division of our Distribution Group, it competes, with regard to distribution management, with Geomedia Inc., Prospect Media Group Ltd., Market Focus Direct Inc. and Novus Media Inc.

We believe that the most significant competitive factors in the distribution business in Québec are pricing, quality of service, delivery lead times, the ability of geotargeting, market penetration, regulatory requirements and environmental issues.

Seasonal Variations

Generally, TC Transcontinental Printing's revenues are seasonal, with the increases in the second and fourth quarters of our fiscal year being most pronounced. More specifically, demand for printing of advertising and promotional products peaks during the spring and fall seasons in advance of periods of increased consumer spending.

Groupe Constructo

Groupe Constructo specializes in the publication of strategic value-added information for the different players in Québec's construction industry, publishing Journal Constructo, annual thematic tabloids, Les leaders de la construction magazine, and numerous digital platforms. Through its Voir Vert magazine, a publication entirely dedicated to sustainable construction in Québec, Groupe Constructo also reaches architects and engineers, general and specialized construction contractors as well as property owners and managers.

Groupe Constructo is also a partner of the Government of Québec as it operates, together with CGI Group Inc., the SEAO service which is Québec's electronic tendering system allowing suppliers to bid on governmental contracts.

Principal Markets and Customers

The operations of TC Media Books are, for the most part, divided into three segments which serve the three main school markets: the school market in Canada outside of Québec; the school market in Québec; and the higher education market mainly in Québec. In addition, we have a segment specialized in the production of professional development materials for the benefit of teachers and other professionals of the education market. We are among the leading publishers in the French school market in Canada outside of Québec and in the French higher education publishing market in Canada, and we are a leading publisher in the French school market in Québec.

The revenues of TC Media Books are diversified by markets, customers, subjects and titles. Its principal customers are ministries of education, school boards, elementary schools and high schools, CEGEPs, colleges and vocational schools, community colleges, universities and, in some cases, foreign distributors and bookstores.

The revenues of Groupe Constructo derive from the construction and real estate markets. Its principal customers are Québec public and private sector businesses, general and specialty contractors, manufacturers and distributors, as well as architects, engineers, technicians and designers.

No single customer has accounted for more than 15% of our Media Sector's revenues during the last two fiscal years.

Competition

The competitors of TC Media Books differ in each of the three main school markets that we serve. They include Les Éditions du Renouveau Pédagogique Inc., CEC Publishing Inc. and Groupe Éducalivres Inc.

The competitors of Groupe Constructo are publishers of specialized publications for the construction industry, including Association de la construction du Québec and JBC Média Inc.

Seasonal Variations

Generally, our Media Sector's revenues are subject to seasonal variations, with increases in the second and fourth quarters of our fiscal year being the most significant. In particular, the majority of the revenues of TC Media Books is generally achieved in the months of June to September to correspond with the back-to-school season of educational institutions.

2.3 Raw Materials and Energy Prices

The primary raw materials that we use are resins, plastic films and ink for our Packaging Sector, and paper and ink for our Printing Sector. Our activities consume energy, in particular, electricity, natural gas and oil. Fluctuations in raw materials and energy prices affect the demand for our services.

The reduction in manufacturing capacity in newsprint has resulted in a decrease in the supply of paper, which in turn has resulted in paper price increases. While paper costs are generally a pass-through to customers for our printing operations, the increase in the price of paper can have a negative effect on our printing operations if it changes the purchasing habits of our customers, in terms of the number of pages printed, for example. In order to mitigate this risk, we have entered into agreements with our most important suppliers in order to ensure a stable flow of resources. In addition, agreements with our customers generally contain escalation clauses that index selling prices to fluctuations in raw material costs and exchange rates.

Furthermore, fluctuations in the price of oil, a core ingredient in the composition of ink and plastic film, have a direct impact on the prices of these products. Fluctuations in the price of oil also have an impact on gasoline prices. Any increase thereto would negatively affect our distribution activities. We continue our efforts towards finding new ways to reduce our energy costs.

2.4 Economic Cycles

TC Transcontinental's activities are exposed to economic cycles and difficult market conditions, as a significant portion of its revenue depends, directly or indirectly, on spending by advertisers. Global economic conditions, changes in consumers' buying habits and significant structural changes, in particular the consolidation in some industries and the adoption of digital platforms, also affect the industries of our main customers, which could have an adverse impact on the products offered by TC Transcontinental. TC Transcontinental operates in many countries, and the economic risks specific to each country may also have an impact on our results of operations. However, we believe that we mitigate this risk through the very composition of our operations, since a substantial segment of our customer base operates in less cyclical markets, such as food. In addition, as TC Transcontinental is a leader in its markets, we believe we can limit our exposure to economic cycles without, however, eliminating their adverse impact or magnitude.

2.5 Environmental and Social Responsibility

Compliance with Applicable Environmental Legal Requirements

We are subject to laws and regulations regarding the environment and permits are required for the operation of our business. These relate to the production, storage, transportation, disposal and emission into the environment of various substances. We are also subject to and comply with various laws and regulations which allow regulatory authorities to require us to proceed with the cleanup of any environmental contamination of our own sites and at plants where our waste is or has been disposed of. We monitor modifications or additions to laws and regulations on a quarterly basis. In addition, compliance with environmental regulations is verified by means of a corporate program, both through internal audits and external audits carried out with the help of firms specializing in environmental matters.

Responsibility for environmental performance is shared across TC Transcontinental and quarterly reports ensure an adequate internal communication of the significant environmental management activities. While the Corporation's Board of Directors and Management Committee are ultimately responsible for compliance to legislation and corporate policies, day-to-day management of environmental performance lies within the assigned corporate team and plant management and personnel.

Environmental Risk Management

TC Transcontinental has developed a solid framework for managing its principal risks. The objectives of this process are to identify the main risks inherent to our business, assess their impact, put in place a response strategy and monitor the progress of mitigation initiatives. Concerns about sustainability and protecting the environment are considered an operational risk and analysed through our global Enterprise Risk Management. A preliminary list of all potential environmental and sustainability risks is completed and the likelihood of occurrence and magnitude of impact of each risk are weighed. Mitigation strategies are then developed by management for risks considered significant. This process is reiterated on an annual basis and is discussed at the Management Committee and the Governance and Social Responsibility Committee of the Corporation's Board of Directors.

Environmental Policy

The main aspects of our environmental performance are described in our Environmental Policy. Our management team is responsible for ensuring the implementation of all items of this policy, which is based on the following three guiding principles:

- Protect the environment for present and future generations;
- Reduce risks and improve efficiencies; and
- Introduce improved technologies and processes.

In our operations, we strive to improve our products and processes in order to progressively reduce routine discharges of contaminants and to minimize the generation of waste and hazardous waste by re-using and recycling materials. We also commit to using resources effectively and maximizing the efficiency of our operations and we encourage a transition to low carbon fuels and renewable energy.

Paper Purchasing Policy

Our Paper Purchasing Policy stipulates, among other things, that recycled or certified papers be used for our printing and for our own publishing operations. As part of our commitment to continuous improvement, we have reiterated our commitment to encourage our customers to choose certified papers when recycled paper is unavailable, so that by working together we can significantly diminish environmental and social impacts.

Our Paper Purchasing Policy enables us to more accurately measure the results of our ongoing efforts and to share them with customers and investors, stakeholders and organizations interested in our sustainability efforts. As part of an ongoing collaboration, we drew on the expertise of environmental organization Canopy in updating our Paper Purchasing Policy.

Circular Approach to Plastics

TC Transcontinental shares the Ellen MacArthur Foundation’s common vision of a circular economy for plastic, where plastic never becomes waste. Therefore, in March 2019, we became the first Canadian-based manufacturer to join the New Plastics Economy Global Commitment. We have committed, by 2025, for 100% of our plastic packaging to be reusable, recyclable or compostable, in addition to achieving a 10% use of post-consumer recycled content on average, by weight, across all plastics in our product basket. As a good corporate citizen, TC Transcontinental also understands its role in promoting good recycling practices and we commit to collaborating towards increasing reuse, recycling and composting rates for plastic in the communities where we operate. We collaborate closely with our supply chain and are determined to make strides towards a circular economy for plastics through our integrated strategy to that effect.

Social Responsibility

Consumers are expressing increasing concern over the protection of the environment as well as sustainable development. The industries where TC Transcontinental operates (packaging, printing and publishing), notably use large quantities of resources (paper and plastics) for their day-to-day operations. We recognize the critical nature of sustainability and have always taken steps to promote and incorporate sustainable development in our operations by mobilizing stakeholders and supporting innovation. We also commit to reporting regularly on our sustainability performance and encourage suppliers to adopt practices consistent with our policies and objectives.

In fiscal year 2019, we were named for the sixteenth year as one of Canada’s 50 best corporate citizens, as determined by Corporate Knights, placing in eighth position. This ranking is established by measuring a broad range of environmental, social and governance (ESG) indicators. For a number of years, we have tracked our fuel and electricity use and have calculated the associated greenhouse gas emissions, reporting our results to the Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP) since 2006. In 2019, TC Transcontinental also reported for the seventh year to the CDP on forest risk commodities.

In July 2019, we tabled our 2016-2018 Corporate Social Responsibility Progress Report, which presents headway made as per the 13 main objectives identified in our 2016-2018 Corporate Social Responsibility Plan. As this plan drew to a close, the Corporation embarked on a large-scale consultation with its stakeholders in order to identify the corporate social responsibility (CSR) issues that resonate most with employees, customers, suppliers and investors. Our 2019-2021 Corporate Social Responsibility Plan, released in July 2019 and named Acting Together, is the Corporation’s new three-year plan based on the firsthand insight received through this process. In addition to featuring ambitious goals reflective of the ever-evolving and growing environmental and social concerns, the plan also aims to converge TC Transcontinental’s business activities with 11 meaningful objectives along four axes: our people, our operations, our products and our communities. Our 2016-2018 Corporate Social Responsibility Progress Report and our 2019-2021 Corporate Social Responsibility Plan are both available on the Corporation’s website (www.tc.tc).

2.8 Reorganizations

We occasionally proceed with legal reorganizations of some of our subsidiaries in order, among other considerations, to improve our organizational structure or our products and services offering, none of which have had a material effect on our activities, operations or financial results.

2.9 Strategic Acquisitions and Business Development

An intrinsic part of our strategy is to grow through strategic acquisitions. We are committed to maintaining a disciplined approach when making acquisitions. 4.2 Ratings

We have the following credit ratings from Standard & Poor's Ratings Services ("S&P") and DBRS Limited ("DBRS").

	S&P	DBRS
Corporate Rating	BBB-/Negative	BBB (low)/Stable
Senior Unsecured Notes	BBB-/Negative	BBB (low)/Stable

Corporate Rating

Standard & Poor's Ratings Services

S&P's credit ratings are opinions about credit risk. S&P's ratings express the agency's opinion about the ability and willingness of an issuer, such as a corporation, to meet its financial obligations in full and on time. Credit ratings can also speak to the credit quality of an individual debt issue and the relative likelihood that the issue may default.

Credit ratings are not absolute measure of default probability. Since there are future events and developments that cannot be foreseen, the assignment of credit ratings is not an exact science. Credit ratings are not intended as guarantees of credit quality or as exact measures of the probability that a particular issuer or debt issue will not default.

S&P credit ratings range from AAA to D, which represent the range from the highest to lowest quality. According to S&P, the BBB- rating is the fifth highest of 12 major rating categories. The ratings from AA to CCC may be modified by the addition of a plus (+) or minus (-) sign to show relative standing within the major rating categories. A BBB rating reflects S&P's opinion that the obligor has adequate capacity to meet financial commitments but is more subject to adverse economic conditions. An obligor rated "BBB-" is considered the lowest investment-grade rating for market participants.

A credit rating outlook notation indicates the possible direction in which a rating may move over the next six months to two years. "Positive" means it may be raised; "Negative" means it may be lowered; and "Stable" means it is unlikely to change.

DBRS Limited

According to DBRS, corporate credit ratings are forward-looking measures that assess an issuer's ability and willingness to make timely payments of principal and interest. Credit ratings are not buy, hold, or sell recommendations, but rather the result of qualitative and quantitative analysis focusing solely on the credit quality of the issuer and its underlying obligations.

DBRS credit ratings range from AAA to D, which represent the range from the highest to lowest quality. According to DBRS, the BBB rating is the fourth highest of 10 major rating categories.

All rating categories other than AAA and D also contain subcategories ("high") and ("low"). The absence of either a ("high") or ("low") designation indicates the rating is in the "middle" of the category. Long-term debt rated BBB is of adequate credit quality. The capacity for the payment of financial obligations is considered acceptable but it may be vulnerable to future events.

Each DBRS rating category is appended with one of three rating trends - "Positive", "Stable", or "Negative". The rating trend helps to give the investor an understanding of DBRS's opinion regarding the outlook for the rating in question. However, the investor must not assume that a positive or negative trend necessarily indicates that a rating change is imminent.

4.3 Normal Course Issuer Bid

On September 27, 2019, the Corporation announced that it received approval from the Toronto Stock Exchange to renew its normal course issuer bid plan in order to purchase for cancellation up to 1,000,000 of its Class A Subordinate Voting Shares, representing approximately 1.36% of the 73,360,754 issued and outstanding Class A Subordinate Voting Shares as of September 18, 2019, and up to 190,560 of its Class B Shares, representing approximately 1.36% of the 13,979,626 issued and outstanding Class B Shares as of September 18, 2019, over the 12-month period starting on October 1, 2019 and ending on September 30, 2020.

In connection with the 2019-2020 normal course issuer bid, the Corporation entered into an automatic purchase plan agreement ("APP") with a broker to allow for the purchase of its Class A Subordinate Voting Shares and Class B Shares at times when the Corporation ordinarily would not be active in the market due to self-imposed trading blackout periods. Before entering into a blackout period, the Corporation may, but is not required to, instruct the designated broker to make purchases in accordance with the terms of the APP. Item 7 - Proceedings

In the normal course of business, the Corporation is involved in various legal proceedings. Legal proceedings resulting from the activities of our packaging, printing or media sector could have adverse effects both with respect to costs and to our reputation. In order to manage this risk, we, in addition to having a civil liability insurance policy, often limit our potential responsibility with respect to damages under our customer and supplier contracts.

Recently, the City of Mirabel, Québec, modified its regulation to prohibit the distribution of printed advertising materials unless the owner or occupant posts a sticker indicating that they accept to receive printed advertising materials (opt-in).

In Québec, local newspapers are generally distributed by the Corporation with printed advertising materials. In addition, the regulation establishes a different system for Canada Post. The Corporation is seeking to have the regulation declared null and void on the grounds that it infringes the right to freedom of expression guaranteed by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the Québec Charter of Human Rights and Freedoms and the right to information protected by the Québec Charter, and that it is discriminatory. The Corporation understands that other municipalities could potentially adopt similar regulations. The Corporation intends to challenge any regulations in that regard that would be adopted elsewhere. Should the Corporation fail to get such changes to regulations declared null and void, it could have an impact on our business model and, consequently, our net earnings. The Corporation is also working together with government bodies to demonstrate the potential effect of such regulations on the value chain as a whole, jobs, citizens, local newspapers and the Corporation.

Item 8 - Material Contracts

No material contract outside the ordinary course of business was entered into by the Corporation within the last fiscal year.

Item 9 - Transfer Agent and Registrar

The transfer agent and registrar of our shares is AST Trust Company (Canada), having a place of business at 2001 Robert-Bourassa Blvd., Suite 1600, Montréal, Québec, H3A 2A6. AST Trust Company (Canada) also has offices in Toronto.

PURPOSE OF THE COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee (the "Committee") of Transcontinental Inc. (the "Corporation") assists the board of directors (the "Board") of the Corporation in fulfilling its oversight obligations in the following key areas:

1. Financial reporting process and integrity of financial statements issued by the Corporation;
2. Selection of the external auditor, supervision of the work of the external auditor and validation of its competence and independence;
3. Validation of the expertise and work performed by the internal audit team;
4. Internal controls for financial reporting and controls of the Corporation's disclosure of information and accounting systems;
5. Compliance with applicable legal requirements and legislation with respect to financial statements;
6. Review of the Corporation's risk management program; and
7. Any other responsibilities delegated by the Board to the Committee, in particular, relating to the financial position of the Corporation or its affiliates.

MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE

The Board shall appoint a minimum of three of its members to the Committee, including a chair of the Committee, and each member being financially literate. The Board shall be under no obligation to fill a vacancy prior to the next annual meeting of shareholders. The Committee is composed exclusively of independent directors who do not have a direct or indirect significant relationship with the Corporation or its affiliates. An important relationship is defined as a relationship that the Board could reasonably expect to be detrimental to the independence of a member's judgment.

The members of the Committee shall be appointed or replaced by resolution of the Board to hold office from the date of their appointment until the next annual meeting of shareholders or until their successor is appointed. A member may be removed or replaced at any time by the Board. A member ceases to be a member of the Committee when he ceases to be a director.

In accordance with the laws and regulations in force, the members of the Committee are chosen according to the following criteria:

1. Independence. Pursuant to applicable securities legislation and based on the standards governing the important relationships of the directors of the Corporation, the members of the Committee are independent and must not have a direct or indirect relationship with the Corporation which, in the opinion of the Board, could affect their impartiality or impair the independence of their judgment.

2. Knowledge in the Field of Finance. The members of the Committee are (or will be, within a reasonable period of time after their appointment) financial literate and are able to read, understand and interpret various financial statements that present accounting situations of a degree of complexity comparable to those of the financial statements of the Corporation. In addition, at least one member of the Committee is considered to be an expert in the financial field.
3. Commitment. In the event that, in addition to being a member of the Committee, a member serves on the audit committee of more than two companies whose shares are listed, then the Board or the Governance and Social Responsibility Committee shall ensure that such multiple positions will not preclude that member from effectively performing his or her duties on the Committee.

MEETINGS

The Committee shall establish its own procedure for the calling and holding of meetings. The Committee must however hold at least two meetings per year. Unless the members of the Committee waive it, the Committee shall meet “in camera” at each meeting of the Committee, without the presence of members of management, the external auditor, the internal auditor and any other consultant, in order to allow its members to discuss frankly and openly. Subject to the notice provisions set out in the by-laws of the Corporation, written notice shall be given at least 48 hours prior to meetings unless the members of the Committee unanimously waive the notice.

The Chair of the Board and the President and Chief Executive Officer may attend each Committee meeting at the invitation of the chair of the Committee.

Unless otherwise determined by the Board from time to time, two members of the Committee constitute a quorum for the purpose of deliberating on any matter presented at a meeting. In the absence of the Chairman of the Committee at a meeting, the chair of the meeting shall be held by the member present who shall be chosen by a majority of the members present. During a meeting, all questions shall be decided by a majority of the votes cast by the members of the Committee.

A member of the Committee is appointed by the Board to act as chair of the Committee. The Secretary of the Committee shall be the Secretary or Assistant Secretary of the Corporation.

RESSOURCES AND SUPPORT

The Committee shall at all times have the necessary resources and authority to carry out its responsibilities and shall be authorized to conduct investigations. In order to fulfill its aforesaid responsibilities, the Committee shall, at the expense of the Corporation, have unrestricted access at all times, directly or through duly appointed representatives, to the relevant records and accounting systems of the Corporation, to its external auditor, its internal auditor, its accounting staff and members of management, as well as to independent legal advisers and other consultants or experts deemed appropriate by the Committee. The Committee has the authority to determine the remuneration of such consultants without obtaining prior authorization from the Board. The external auditor, the internal auditor of the Corporation and members of management shall also have unrestricted access to the Committee.

Any of such consultants or experts shall have the right to attend meetings of the Committee at the invitation of the chair of the Committee.
